Court Children's Officer

Here to help you and your family

(for children aged 4–8 years)

Court Children's Officers are here to help. Especially when your mummy and daddy can't agree about the time they spend with you.

Sometimes children can feel happy, sad or unsure of who they want to spend time with.

That is why I ask you about your family and what you most like about it.

I also talk to your parents and all the other people who care about you.

Then I write an important letter about what you want to happen and what I think is best for you.

This letter goes to a Judge, who is a very wise person.
They listen to everyone and decide what is best for you.

After all we want you to be happy.

That is what helpful
people are
for.
